Drones is a shoot'em up game released on the 60th anniversary of the "Playboy Magazine" on playboy.com. In Drones you are the captain of the titanic vessel, the Legatus Astartes, that is orbiting an alien planet on a mission to explore the solar system. Discovering the structure of the solar system, the legatus astartes is the name of an ancient Roman Legion, an elite space marines unit stationed on the planets around the center of our galaxy. The unit is also called the Elite Corps and the Legatus is the name that we will adopt for our story. Onboard the elite vessel, hundreds of years in the future, you have to awaken a human from hyper sleep in the event of a critical situation. The situation is critical: on the left side of the vessel, a group of dangerous aliens is approaching towards an Imperial Protectorate Ship, the imperial star cruiser. The aliens are called drones, they are a human development project, and they have advanced weapons. The only way to avoid an attack is to defend the Protectorate Ship and the Earth. You are in command of the drone spaceship; you are the captain of the new ship. The ship features several special systems to manage and deploy the drones in your fleet, so the player has two main activities: pilots the mother ship and delegates the command of their fleet, while managing the game with 3 different levels of difficulty. You are a human being, but on the face of the drones, you are the captain of an elite space marines unit. You are the commander, the leader of this pilot military unit, and the ship's AI, the Artificial Intelligence engine of the vessel. You are the player, not only the human being commanding the ship, but also the operational commander of the drones. Your objective: to avoid an attack and to fight the alien drones. How To Play: The controls are divided in two categories: the third-person view allows you to direct your drones, and the controls for the drones, that can be assigned to three different functions: Launcher, Fragger and Cannon. Launch a special unit that will perform a special function: Launcher automatically destroys all drones in a preset radius. Fragger makes the drones in a preset radius explode. Cannon is the current standard laser weapon used throughout the fleet. It is accurate but slow compared to the other drones of your fleet. From now on, you will be tested to the limit, and the c9d1549cdd

Dont mind, I am new to this game and in all honesty you haven't said how long it takes to load, at what resolution, how long it lasts, the aim is for it to play all at once with no load times. I have found that mods aren't installed correctly and maybe the script is wrong. I will have a play with different scripts that may work better and will give a better view of what I am dealing with. So far I find you should have alot of options in the game, including controller support, however I don't think you should be using the auto key combination to move the camera. An update was released and I think that it may fix many of the issues. I will try it later today. It's not the length of the game or the loading times that is the problem, it's the animation frame rates. I have a laptop with an i7 processor, Nvidia 1050m gpu, 8GB of DDR4 RAM, a 1920x1080 screen resolution and an SSD drive, and I'm getting frame rates at about 10 fps. I'm sorry, but I've already spent a bunch of money on the game, so I can't continue spending money trying to get a better framerate. I've tried switching to d3d from software rendering, to no avail. So, if you are able to help get the framerate up to at least 30 fps, that would be awesome. I'd even be willing to help with getting the modding community up and running as well.Ultrastructural observations on the branchiae of Heliocidaris crassispina (Olivi) Kott, 1853, in the starfish Asterias rubens L. (Echinodermata: Asteroidea). The branchiae of Heliocidaris crassispina (Olivi) Kott, 1853, were studied at the ultrastructural level using light microscopy and immunocytochemistry. Sclerocytes present irregular densities with small undulations at the same level, corresponding to a homogeneous matrix. These densities are considered to be an anlage of the

 By: Butch Pre-order: $5.99 Coming: September 1st, 2020 Necromunda: Hired Gun - Escher Skin Pack description This set includes 2 Skins per person. includes the 'Escher_1_of_2_escher_skin_unlocked.xml' file that you need to apply the skin This file is the size of a Necromunda character model The texture resolution of the second skin (Escher_2_of_2) will be higher than the first one (Escher_1_of_2) These look great on all PosseMechs. As for the file, it is the highest resolution allowing you to get the best look ever Escher_1_of_2 is the high resolution of Escher_1_of_2 Escher_1_of_2 will only add shadows and other effects that can be seen on Escher_2_of_2 if you have the 1st skin unlocked and the game for some reason doesn't apply the 2nd skin, it's very easy to unlock the 2nd skin (see HOW TO) Unlocked skin added with M4K and ZIP files. More details above! Link to the pictures Please take a look at the pictures : (I'll just post here the size, since I can't post everywhere in the thread) Pictures size: 62 Mb Screenshot: the texture pack that is currently available, Escher's 2nd skin. This texture pack is not perfect, there are a lot of things I would have changed. The resolution is the same on all the mechs, but the first skin has a bit lower resolution. Escher is a one-model-skin mechanic, so if you use the other mechs and try to do a Black Legion or a Pink Pigdog you will likely have problems with the planeswalker skin, there is no room for it on that model. 2 pictures added How To : Download : If the file is green (ZIP) it means it's unlocked, if the file is blue (M4K) it means that the file is for an old Mechwarper. It is

NOT a new Mechwarper and isn't M4K, just M4K4K is like that

This game is developed by one man, as a labor of love to create a truly unique, deep-seated experience. My goal is to present a story-driven, action-RPG inspired by the many great adventures of an all-but-forgotten past generation of games - the adventure game, as you may know it. This will be the first-ever game from this developer, and I have the degree of personal investment and experience to carry it out. To ensure a full experience for gamers, I decided to develop it all in-house. This means that I will be responsible for: * Design * Art * Programming * Audio * Sound/music * Level Design * Scripting (Story/Dialogue/Dialogue) * Gameplay About This Game's Funding: This game is fully funded, with a budget of $90,000. About This Game's Production Timeline: CURRENTLY IN PRODUCTION. I'm currently designing, developing, and animating the game. I'm currently at approximately 60% completion. - Design: High frame-rate graphics, lightning-fast pacing, slick interface, massive inventory, original songs, fully animated cut-scenes, and more. - Concept: A deeply-personal, emotionally-driven story steeped in ancient symbolism, realistic experience, and timeless tropes. - Programming: C# - Unity3D engine - 2D and 3D graphics - Combat - Class System - Inventory - Environment - Spriting - NPC Scripting - Locations - Ship Cinematic Loading - Audio: Massive original soundtrack - Audio FX/SFX - Level Design: Prehistoric environs and caves - Magical and otherworldly regions - Racing - Scoring - Speedrunning - Top-down scenery - Scattered areas of HUD/UI About This Game's Goals: This game is designed to serve as a comprehensive, character-driven, narrative-driven challenge for myself. It's meant to be a mature, adult adventure game, and I've reserved the language, themes, and subject matter to make sure the game has the maturity level to match. Therefore, I want to ensure that all of my games will never compromise artistic integrity - no matter how deep or ugly the technology gets. My goal is to craft a game that will challenge the player, and make the player think. I want the player to experience a story that resonates strongly with the player, and also forces the player to think. This is a
